

Household Air Pollution and Health

Dr Susan Mercado

Director

Division of NCDs and Health through the Life Course

WHO Western Pacific Region

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

Air pollution is now the world's largest single environmental health risk

Photo by Bill Bishop for the Washington Post

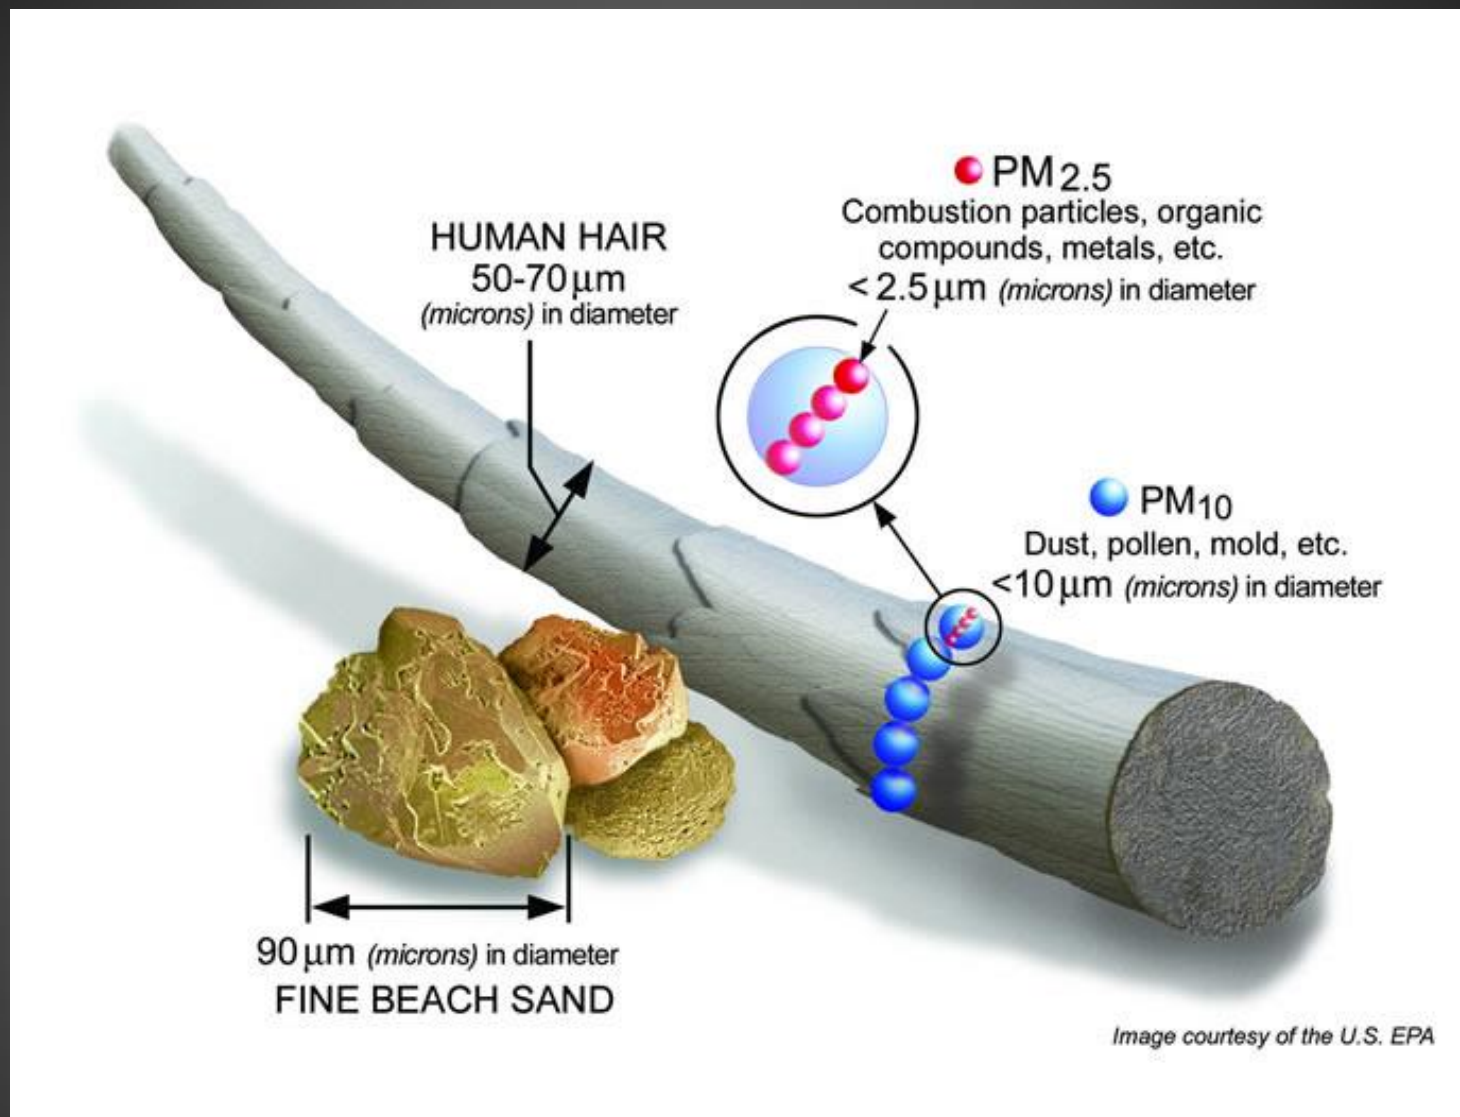

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

Indoor air pollution killed 4.3 million people in 2012

Photo from the Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

PM 2.5 is a Class A Carcinogen

<https://www.healthnewsuk.co.uk/cancer-news/new-test-to-warn-smokers-about-lung-cancer/>

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

Normal bronchi

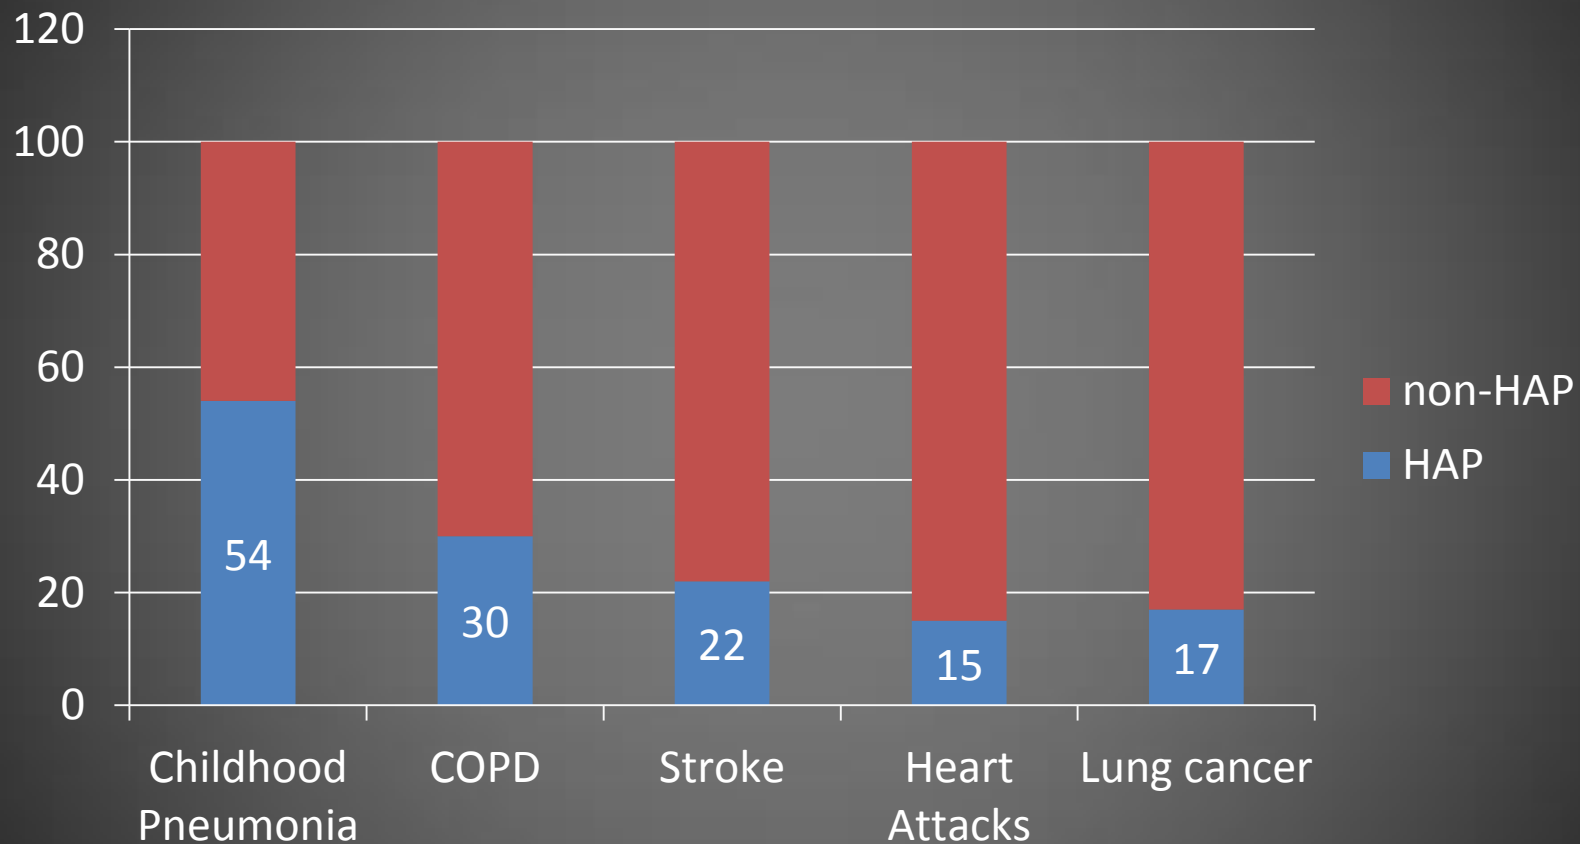

Bronchitis

ADAM.

http://lungcancer.ucla.edu/adm_lung_bronchitis.html

HOW HOUSEHOLD AIR POLLUTION (HAP) CONTRIBUTES TO MORTALITY

PM 2.5 = 800

Photo from the Associated Press

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

Women, children and older persons have no choice and are the most vulnerable.
PM 2.5 should be 0.

Photo from Reuters

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES

DEATHS FROM HOUSEHOLD AIR POLLUTION BY SEX AND AGE (by 000's Western Pacific Region, 2004)

Clean energy for the home is a public health intervention.
It will save the lives of millions of women and children.

ASIA CLEAN ENERGY FORUM | 15 JUNE 2015 | MANILA, PHILIPPINES